- works at events with low number of competitors, if there are more than 20, the competition should start on Friday.
- is usually used for F3A World Cups as preferred rounds schedule for many years and is appreciated by the pilots Most participants need to travel on Thursday.
- Liechtenstein had normally around 50 competitors, so only two complete rounds with all pilots were possible. Third round was a final with 20 pilots
- very special case, only works with a low number of pilots.
Was appreciated by the participants and confirmed by the chairman.

5N.3. Contests

Contests included in the World Cup must appear on the FAI Contest Calendar, and must be run according to the FAI Sporting Code. The contests eligible for a World Cup in a particular year, must be nominated before the CIAM Bureau Meeting at the end of the preceding year, and must be included in the FAI Contest Calendar. The selection of the contests should be according to the following guidelines:

- a) a maximum of two contests may be selected for any one country.
- b) each competitor may count only one competition from each country in Europe (taking the better score for any European country in which he has scored in two competitions).
- c) five (5) judges have to be appointed for each judges' panel and a TBL scoring system has to be applied.
- d) rounds should be organised in one of the following combinations, while rounds of F-Schedules may be run for a limited number of competitors only as a "fly-off".
  - Four rounds of P-schedule, two rounds of F-schedule. The total of the best three preliminary flights (normalised again to 1000 points) will count as one score along with the two fly-off scores to provide three scores, the best two to count for classification.
  - Three rounds of P-Schedule with the best two flights counting
  - Two rounds of P-Schedule with the best one flight plus one round of F-Schedule counting
  - Three rounds of P-Schedule with the best two flights plus one round of F-Schedule counting

Other combinations are subject to be confirmed by the World Cup Coordinator or the F3 Aerobatics Chairman in advance.
- e) rounds to be flown must be published in Bulletins and all rounds completed have to count for the only one overall result of each World Cup competition.
